

00:24:09 Dave Bollinger: Mike & Esau I see you online for roll call 00:24:49 Esau Hernandez: Yes, having trouble with audio v
00:25:20 Dave Bollinger: Esau: we noted you 00:30:45 Mike Morowit District 3: Dave could you remind everyone to have mic's on when speaking?
00:31:41 Dave Bollinger: We'll try :) 01:02:24 Dave Bollinger: Reminder: ALL of the public submissions are available for interactive exploration via the DistrictR "gallery":
https://distrctr.org/tag/San_Joaquin 01:03:00 Dave Bollinger: Maps are also available in a more summarized form on our redistricting website itself: <https://wedrawthelines.sjgov.org/> 01:12:53 Paul Brennan: I don't think it's very productive to discuss maps that haven't been vetted. If they don't meet specified requirements per County Counsel, then those maps aren't helping the conversation move forward.
01:15:23 Dave Bollinger: Thanks Paul. This portion of the meeting was intended to explore if any overall "trends" might be recognizable in the public maps submitted to-date. More formal consideration of complaint plans is upcoming.
(and will likely accelerate in upcoming meetings)
01:15:53 Paul Brennan: Understood, thanks Dave.
01:16:25 Dave Bollinger: corr: "compliant" (big difference!)
01:29:16 Dave Bollinger: These slides will be available on the redistricting website (re: we're aware that some tables are "dense" and difficult to read via Zoom)
01:30:14 Paul Brennan: I like this map (#48331).
02:20:51 Denise Warmerdam: For clarification - D4 did send out information to all of our communities, but I believe fruit and nut growers are not as organized as the grape region, and do not identify to a certain area as Lodi growers do.
02:22:48 Dave Bollinger: Thanks Denise, would you to speak to that?
