San Joaquin County Launches Voter Redistricting Process
County to work with experts, census data, local community to define Supervisorial districts

STOCKTON, Calif. – San Joaquin County has convened a Redistricting Advisory Committee (RAC) that will advise the county on reestablishing its supervisorial districts to reflect new population data and shifting populations. Every ten years, local governments use new census data to redraw their district lines to reflect how local populations have changed. State law requires cities and counties to engage communities in the redistricting process by holding public hearings and workshops, and conducting public outreach. The RAC is an important piece of the County’s broad efforts to engage residents in the process through community-based outreach and online at We Draw the Lines | San Joaquin County \(sjgov.org\)

The RAC group consists of ten members of the public from across San Joaquin County, with each Supervisorial District having two representatives. The RAC members will serve for the duration of the redistricting process.
